YOUNG MEN FROM WHEELING

Lead Beautiful Young Women from Baltimore, Wilkesbarre and Huntington to the Altar—The Smythe-Conner Nuptials a Notable Event, as Were the Whitaker, Cecil and O'Brien Weddings.

There were a number of weddings yesterday in which one or more Wheeling people were the principals, the majority of them occurring out of town. In this city, the notable affair was the wedding of Mr. Robert John Smythe, of Brooklyn, N. Y., to Miss Laura M. Conner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Conner, of South Chapline street. It was a church ceremony, solemnized yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the Fourth Street M. E. church, in the presence of a large throng of friends of the bride and groom, and it was characterized by elaborateness of detail. A bridal luncheon was served later at the Conner home.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. W. L. Davidson, D. D., of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, and president of the Mountain Lake Park Chautauqua, and an intimate friend of the bride's family, who have spent their summers at this resort. Dr. Davidson read the beautiful ritual very impressively. He was assisted by Rev. J. L. Sooy, D. D., pastor of the church.

The wedding march and music for the ceremony were played by Dr. H. P. Linz, a proficient organist. The bride party entered the church at the appointed hour, the bride leaning on the arm of her father. She was attired in a traveling suit of gray broadcloth, with hat and gloves to match. They were preceded by the ushers, who were Messrs. A. S. Hare, H. P. Waltz, Robert Dillon and J. Howard Wells. The groom received the bride at the altar railing, which was tastefully banked with ferns, palms and smilax. The bride carried a beautiful shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and maiden hair ferns. The party returned from the church in reverse order.

A reception was held at the bride's home, and a bridal luncheon served. Florist Max Hess had artistically decorated the house with smilax, carnations and asparagus. At 7 p. m., Mr. and Mrs. Smythe left over the Pennsylvania railroad for Brooklyn, where they will make their home, and they were followed with the best wishes of a large circle of friends. Mr. Smythe, who was formerly a resident of Wheeling, is manager of a large mercantile establishment in Brooklyn.

Whitaker-Roesling.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 15.—No more brilliant wedding was ever solemnized in the fashionable St. Stephens church, in this city, than that of Nelson Price Whitaker, of Wheeling, W. Va., and Miss Stella McAlpine Roesling, of Lawrenceville, Pa., at 6 o'clock this evening. The bride has a number of relatives and a large number of friends in Wilkesbarre, and the wedding took place from the home of her aunt, Mrs. Cole B. Beaumont.

It was a pink and chrysanthemum wedding and these beautiful blossoms were worn by the entire wedding party, ushers and all. The church was a perfect bower of decorations, and for the first time at a wedding in this church, the vested choir participated coming in from the chancel and singing the wedding hymns, while the wedding party came up the main aisle, the large pipe organ accompanying the singers. At the chancel the ushers and bridesmaids parted, allowing the bride and her uncle to proceed to the altar, where they were met by the groom and his best man.

The bridal party made a distinguished appearance, the bride wearing an exquisite gown of white satin. She was attended by the following bridesmaids: Miss Elsie Patterson, of Wilmington, Del.; Miss Florence McAlpin, of Rochester, N. Y.; Miss Lew Lindsey, of Lawrenceville, Pa.; Miss Jean Ricketts and Miss Helen Pease, of Wilkesbarre, and Miss Susan Dorrance, of Dorrance, Pa. The maid of honor was Miss Estelle Ryan, of Lawrenceville, and the flower girl little Mary Lindsey Brundage, niece of the bride.

The groom is engaged in the iron and steel business in Wheeling, and is quite prominent in the south. A reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt. There was a large array of nuptial gifts.

Finnigan-Reynolds.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, in the parlors of the Cathedral residence, Mr. Don Finnigan and Miss Stella Reynolds, of this city, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Father Harris. Mr. Benjamin Kenney acted as best man, and Miss Blanche Reynolds, sister of the bride, was bride's maid.

After the marriage the party was driven to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stoops, on Eoff street, where an excellent wedding feast was prepared. An informal reception took place, lasting until 1 o'clock, when Mr. and Mrs. Finnigan left over the Pan Handle for New York, it being their intention to spend a ten days' honeymoon in the eastern cities. They will be at home to their friends at 1414 Market street.

SURE TO ASK

The Kind of Coffee When Postum is Well Made.

"Three great coffee drinkers were my old school friend and her two daughters.

"They are always complaining and taking medicine. I determined to give them Postum Food Coffee instead of coffee when they visited me, so without saying anything to them about it, I made a big pot of Postum the first morning, using four heaping teaspoons to the pint of water and let it boil twenty minutes, stirring down occasionally.

"Before the meal was half over, each one passed up the cup to be refilled, remarking how fine the coffee was. The mother asked for a third cup and inquired as to the brand of coffee I used. I didn't answer her question just then, for I had heard her say a while before that she didn't like Postum Food Coffee unless it was more than half old-fashioned coffee.

"After breakfast I told her that the coffee she liked so well at breakfast was pure Postum Food Coffee, and the reason she liked it was because it was properly made, that is, it was boiled long enough to bring out the flavor. I have been brought up from a nervous, wretched invalid, to a fine condition of physical health by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee. "I am doing all I can to help the world out of coffee slavery, to Postum freedom, and have earned the gratitude of many, many friends." Myra J. Tuller, 1023 Troost Avenue, Kansas City, Mo.

IN THE SOCIAL REALM.

This evening, the members of the Carroll Club will be entertained in a novel manner by the newly organized Ladies' Social Carroll Club. The committee in charge, under Mrs. M. J. McFadden, have arranged to give a variety of entertainments, that will amuse and entertain all members who avail themselves of the opportunity to attend. Foremost among these will be the "Box Social." This will consist in every lady being expected to bring with her a box containing a tempting lunch, which will be collected at the door. When the gentleman receives the box, he will open it, and find therein the name of the fair owner, whom he will join and together enjoy the contents of the box. Each lady will try to outdo the other in the preparation of the boxes.

The commercial travellers of Wheeling will give a minstrel performance on the first Friday and Saturday evenings in January, for the benefit of a local charity, and the performers have already begun practicing for this event. The Majestic Club rooms, on Main street, has been chosen as the scene of rehearsals. The first part will consist exclusively of performances by the traveling men, but the olio will include the best talent the city affords. The knights of the grip promise jokes fresh as the dew-kissed meadow daisy, and an entertainment as a whole that will be second to none put on by the best minstrel organization on the road.

Logomassino-Getty.

One of the weddings of the day that possessed no little interest in the local Italian colony was solemnized in Pittsburgh, and was followed by an elaborate wedding reception in this city. The contracting parties were Mr. Louis Logomassino, of this city, and Miss Ellenora Elizabeth Getty, of Pittsburgh. The ceremony was performed yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, in St. Peter's church, Pittsburgh, by Rev. Father Camillas. The attendants were Misses Lizzie Miller and Lizzie Weppeler, of Pittsburgh, and John Logomassino, of Wheeling, and John Tassi, of Pittsburgh. At the conclusion of the church ceremony, the party was driven about the principal points of interest in the Smoky City, after which the return to Wheeling was made.

On the arrival of the party in Wheeling at 6:15 p. m., a large reception was tendered in honor of the happy couple at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Logomassino, on Water street, and it was attended by probably 125 people, including the best element of the Italian and Greek population.

tion and native Americans. At a seasonable hour a delightful wedding repast was served and the feasting continued until a late hour. Mayer's orchestra rendered a pleasing musical programme throughout the evening, and vocal solos by Capt. W. M. Clemens were a feature. The party broke up about midnight, after which Mr. and Mrs. Logomassino were driven to their new home on Seventeenth street. The groom is a young stogie maker, respected and liked by a large circle of friends, and the bride is an accomplished young lady who has done newspaper work for the Pittsburgh Dispatch. The esteem in which the couple is held was manifested by the number of handsome presents they received. About ten Wheeling people attended the wedding at Pittsburgh, and they were joined by the bride's family and friends on the return trip to Wheeling. The affair was the most notable ever occurring in the local Italian colony.

EVERY member of the Bostonia Sextette Club is a thorough artist. Seats on sale this morning at the Opera House box office.
